CLIMBING HOLDS

Micro Holds

Micro Holds are our smallest bolt-on holds. They attach with flathead bolts allowing for a low profile. Micros make great footholds on almost any angle wall and many of the Micro shapes make excellent handholds, especially on low angle walls.

Modular Holds

This category of holds forms the foundation of any climbing wall system. They are medium in size, but as the name implies, incredibly versatile. Every imaginable style of hold is represented here.

Micro Holds

Modular Holds

Roof Jugs

Roof Jugs are a blast to climb on and the perfect tool to help you get stronger for the steeper routes. They're large in size like the Macros, but EVERY hold hides a hand-swallowing jug.

Macro Holds

These large shapes allow you to climb on insanely steep terrain or move around at a moderate level on more reasonable angles. This category contains some super-positive jugs.

Roof Jugs

Macro Holds

Mini Jugs

These holds are nearly perfect for any climber or any wall. Their small footprint makes them ideal for small woodie walls where space is a premium. Because they are so positive, they also make ideal holds for kids and beginners alike.

Screw On Holds

Screw-On holds are for wood walls and attach with high-quality, self-drilling decking screw. They are a great value because of the savings in hardware cost.
